GETTING READY TO BEGIN WORK.

The Talbott Works to Be Remodelled and Equipped With the Most Modern Machinery-Engineers Are Working Out the Details.

The ship-building company being formad in this city will apply for a charter in the Circuit Court to-morrow, and the details of the scope, and plans of the erganization will then be made public.

so sick, has almost entirely recovered.

Mr. J. O. Reams and family and his brother, Mr. C. S. A PERMANENT INSTITUTION. The impression that seems to have gained currency in some quarters that the company has been organized solely with a view to executing this one conract for boats for the government is natively erroneous. It is the intention of promoters to establish a permanent ontracts in view, which promise to keep he yards in active operation for some me to come. Some of the very best alent in the government service has seen secared, and the work will all be inder the direction and control of Mr. W. R. Trigg, who is to be the general that applications for stock aggregating many times the amount of the authorized capital have been received, but only some ten or a dozen gentlemen have been so fortunate as to secure any of the scrip. The importance of this new industry to the city of Richmond can hardly be setimated. It will give employment to some three hundred or four hundred men, some three hundred or four hundred men, and has opened up a whole vista of glowing possibilities. It will, of course, stimulate the muchine and from interests, and will give a good deal of work to the Richmond Locomotive- and Machine-Works and other large commercial inintions. The engines for the govern-ent boats will all be made at the abovenamed works, and a contract to this end has already been drawn up. THE CITY FATHERS INTERESTED.

The City Fathers have recognized the importance of the enterprise and have importance of the enterprise importance of the chief that the best facilities possible. The effort to deepen the chief the river, which has been ties possible. The effort to deepen the champel of the river, which has been hanging fire for so many years, has taken definite shape at last, and the plans of city-Engineer Cutshaw for dykeing the control of the control of the plans of th river received an impetus in the prospecseems likely to lead to the most bene-ficial results. Further than this, the city has been assured that its efforts to improve the river and make it navigable ill meet with the heartiest approval and antial support of the authorities in

It will take some years to accomplish all that is intended, but an annual appropriation for the improvement of James river will, it is quite sure, be a feature of all future budgets framed by the Richad City Council. As the river now stands, and counting the distance from Richmond to the Capes as 127 miles, 83 per cent, has the requisite depth of 22 feet at mean low tide, and vessels drawing 191-2 feet of water can now come within ten miles of Richmond, and those drawing 16 feet come to the give their full value to these extraordi-nary features is the depth of 22 feet at mean low tide. With that depth Richmond can compete with the more northern Atlantic cities.

A WEEK'S NEWS FROM FULTON. Rev. Mr. Hening Arrives With His

Family-Personal Notes. Rev. B. Cabell Hening, the new pastor of Fulton Baptist church, arrived here vesterday from his home, in Burlington, Va., and will occupy his pulpit at both the morning and evening services to-day. After spending two weeks doing pastoral work, he will return to his home and remove his family to this city. The connight and give a reception in honor of Mr. Hening. Invitations have been sent out ann ing the marriage of Miss Anna W. Mc Caul to Mr. Everett H. Wilkinson, to take place on the evening of October lith, at 8:30 o'clock, at the Fulton Baptist church. Both of the young people are very popular in this city, and they have the good wishes of many friends.

Mr. Wilkinson is a well-known mer-chant, and Miss McCaul is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Me-Caul, of Williamsburg avenue. After the ceremony the happy couple will take up their residence in Fulton.

The revival meeting held throughout Episcopal church will be continued every night this week. Rev. Mr. Brown, paster, assisted by Rev. S. C. Hatcher, of Denny-Street Methodist Episcopal church, has been prescripting with great power, and as been preaching with great power and effect. Many persons from the city go down every night to attend the meetings. Charles H. Smith, lieutenant Engine Company No. 8, inventor of the hose-clamp, which is of great benefit to the department, is at work on another device, which, it is expected, will be the device, which, it is expected, will be the means of throwing water to a much greater height. Mr. Smith is very sangular about the result. He expects to give it a practical test very soon.

Mr. Myer Angle, Jr., and Mr. Williams, had a splendid hunting trip last week, and met with very good luck, killing twelve hares, one fox, and a wild turkey.

Bank Statement Adds to Streng of Situation.

NEW YORK, October 8.-The stoc market to-day continued in the hands the professional trading element. Trans actions were of small volume, and no widely distributed. Such as they wer they reflected a decidedly unsettled an heeltating frame of mind on the part of the traders. The opening tendency we downward, affected by a break of a poin in Brooklyn Transit, and continued pre sure on Northern Pacific.

The foreign markets were unsettled ! the political outlook in France, tigh money in Berlin, and the public agitatio in Spain for the payment of interest of government bonds in pesetas, instead of francs. This had some influence in th opening here, although Americans ha been supported in London on orders from Strength in Tobacco, which rose 21 per cent., supplemented by support Brooklyn Rapid Transit, People's Gas and Manhattan L, and covering of short in Sugar, checked the decline. There wa a rally also in Northern Pacific, which drove the shorts to cover, and which wa accompanied by a rumor that the cor flicting views of the interests dominar in the property had been adjusted. The professional traders then took the lon-side of the market for a turn, and then was a general covering of shorts.

BANK STATEMENT FAVORABLE The appearance of the bank statement sided to the bullish feeling, as it was fully as favorable as had been expected. Although the reserve requirement had been raised by $2,169,650, by reason of the larger deposits, the increase of $5.586,100 in cash left the surplus reserve $3,416,450 higher.

The expansion of loans, though less than a million dollars, indicates the turn than a million dollars, indicates the turn than a million dollars, in that item since September 1 in the september 2 in t in the tide of the money market, and is the first increase in that item since Sep-tember 2d. Even for last week, it will be remembered, the gain in cash reserve was only accomplished by a loan contraction of $6.589,500. This week the strengthening of $6.589,500. This week the strengthening of the reserves has not prevented an exten-sion of credits to the extent of $807,800. It is not improbable that the newly de-veloped investment in long sterling ex-change, for the purpose of lending credits abroad, figures in this item. BOND MARKET IMPROVED.

NEW YORK, October 8.—The cotton market opened dull, with prices 1 to 2 points lower, under sheer absence at speculative support. Speculation lacked snap and vim all through the short session, with fluctuations very narrow. Shorts feared to sell, owing to reports of further rains in the central portion of the belt, a still more serious turn in the yellow-fever district, and a growing belief that Monday's government report will show a condition of less than 746. Liverpool market had lost its activity, whilst demand from investors was entirely lacking. Following the call many roomtraders gave their attention to settling outstanding obligations, fearing to take chances over Sunday and Monday. The late market for cotton futures was a tame affair, with unimportant changes in price. The close was quiet and steady, at net unchanged prices to 3 points lower. Spot closed dull, with prices unchanged, on the basis of 57-16c. for middling uplands and 511-16c, for middling uplands and 511-16c, for middling uplands and 511-16c, for middling uplands, 3-4; May 8-52; June, 8-54; Juny, 8-57; August, 8-69.

He Has a Debate With Yost in Appomattox.

QUARLES'S CANVASS.

WEST APPOMATTOX, October & (Special.)-A big court-day crowd was present here Thursday, and listened to a debate between Judge J. M. Quarles and Congressman Jacob Yost. Mr. Yost was the challenging party, and the terms were Yost to open in an hour, Quarles to fol-low in an hour, Yost to rejoin in 20 min-utes, and Quarles to close in the same time. Introduced by Republican-County-Chairman W. C. Franklin, Mr. Yost said that he was glad, looking in the faces of his audience, to see evidences of better conditions. Judge Quaries had said that conditions. Judge Quaries had said the the Democrats wanted to "look into the books." "And," said Yost, "we're ready to show them. Momentous changes have come in the past two years. Disappointed men there are always, and some of us believe that serious mistakes have been made so far as may effect some of us personally, but as a party we have made no error, and higher than personal am-bition are the changes for the better during this time. In this day the name American has a better and higher significance than ever before. One central point Mr. Yost desired to impress on his point Mr. Fost desired to impress on audience, and that was that the government is an aggregation of individuals and that if the government presented opleasing picture of prosperity. It was proof that the people were prosperous.

Judge Quarles was introduced by Sena tor Flood in a highly commendator speech as the next congressman from the district. Judge Quarles said Yost had assumed an impossible task in attempting to prove a man is prosperous when he is poor and getting poorer every day. Said he: "Mr. Yost is the most hopeful man I ever saw; always making prophecies of better times." He showed that the general tendency of all values, save money, were on the down grade, and he the general tendency of all values, save money, were on the down grade, and he insisted that the last two years were but two years of Republican excuses. Quoting Mr. Yost's glowing and golden ac-count of a conversation he had had with Millionaire C. B. Orcutt, of New York, about the golden dawn of grander days of good times. Judge Quarles said days of good times, Judge Quarles said; "I don't want to talk to you about what millionaires say. Don't go to see Orcut, ask farmers and producers how it is. You say, Mr. Yost, that the government does well, and thence it works down to the people. You reverse the doctrine—let the people do well and it works up towards the top; but with poverty at the bottom and wealth at the top you have a bad outlook for the future. Oh, Mr. Yost, you can't put money in the pockets of the people by artful argument and sounding rhetoric."

Judge Quarles thoroughly discussed the silver question, and vigorously attacked silver question, and vigorously attacked Mr. Yost's patent panacea for povertyhigh protective tarff. He keenly dissected the war-tax bill and the bond issue, and sald that Dewey at Manila and Schley a said that Dewey at marina and series a Santiago virtually won their great vie tories with the fleets provided for lons before war revenue bills passed. They were the old fleets constructed and equipped under the Cleveland-Whitney Admin ped under the Cleveland-Whitney Admin-istration. The Democratic candidate with manifest effect quoted the pulpit at-terance of Dr. Sunderland, pastor of Vice-President Hobart's church, com-menting on the wretched inefficiency in menting on the wretched inefficiency in providing for our soldiers, and making them absolutely, in many instances, ob-jects of public charity. Mr. Yost replied in an able speech, from his standpoint, and Judge Quarles's re his standpoint, and Judge Quaries's re-joinder stamped him as a clever and forceful debater. The Democrats were delighted with their candidate's show-ing, and at the same time the Republi-cans were pleased with their representa-tive's efforts.

The Boy Will Be Bad.

The Boy Will Be Bad.

Richmond, Va., October 8, 1898.

To the Editor of the Dispatch:

I saw by the evening paper that Messrs.
Carleton McCarthy and D. C. Richardson protested against Norvell Lee Hickok being sent to the reformatory this morning when his case was before Justice Crutchfield. I think they made a mistake, because less than three hours afterwards this boy came into my yard and set fire to a lot of waste paper, which might have caused a serious fire if we hadn't promptly put it out. Very respectfully,

T. W. LEONARD.
